

Well Dressed

People judge other people by their clothes. It may be wrong, probably in some cases. It is every woman's right to be well dressed. It is every woman's right to be as well dressed as she can be. If she can't feel that she is properly clothed she can't be comfortable; can't enjoy herself, or take her proper part in the affairs of life.

How.

The problem is, how to be well dressed on little money. The first thing is to find the right store to buy from. Money is only good for what it will buy. It is worth most where it will buy most.

Where.

We don't believe there's a better place in America for Liverpool ladies to buy goods than right in our store. In buying and selling we have the interest of our patrons in mind, as well as our own, and we try to gain trade by deserving it.

When.

Now's the time to begin to look about for fall and winter goods. There certainly never was a time that we had so good a stock, and prices so low. The new fall dress goods, cloaks and trimmings are all in stock awaiting your inspection at

AS GOOD AS A CIRCUS

The Ball Game Between Standards and Knowles.

NEW END BOYS ARE VICTORIOUS

They Win a Game and $25 From the Co-operative Players—The Band Played All Through the Game But Not a Toot Could be Heard at the Finish.

When the base ball teams of the Standard and Knowles' potteries assembled on the West End grounds yesterday and got down to business there was more genuine excitement than that part of the city had witnessed in months.

The teams chosen were as follows: Standard—Lynch p, McNicol c, McNutt m, Lester s, Smith i, Hanlon 2, Hester 3, Gill i, Walker r, Davis sub. Knowles', New End—Reark p, Weigartner c, Davis m, Taylor s, Lounds i, Hickey 2, Twaddle 3, Bloor i, Grosshans r.

The Standard team marched to the grounds headed by their band, several of the Standard men belonging to the Manley band. They were out for noise, judging by the amount they succeeded in making. The game was called promptly at half past three and Thomas Pickall chosen umpire. The Knowles team went to the bat first. In the first inning the principal feature was a three base hit by Smith, who reached home safely. McNutt also scored, but the Knowles team got only a goose egg. In the second they got two, Bloor making a two base hit. He scored, as did Davis. McNicol brought up the Standard's score one in the same inning. In the third, Weigartner, Lounds and Reark scored. Things looked blue for the Standards. Grosshans made a two base hit and scored in the fourth. Twaddle made himself famous in the fifth by catching a foul after circling around and through a crowd, running fully 150 feet. Will Taylor masticated chicken seven times in succession in the sixth inning and finally took his base on balls. Gill got to second on a base hit and error by Twaddle and Hanlon, and Hester scored. The excitement was great but not so great as when Lynch made a two base hit in the last part of the sixth and brought Gill in, tying the score. The band boys, who had taken seats in the grandstand, tooted their instruments in joyful discord for almost five minutes. They made it a point to do this every time the Standards made a brilliant play or got the best of a decision. A single by McNutt brought in Lynch. Lester knocked a grounder between Twaddle's legs: McNutt scored and was hit by the ball on the home stretch. Lester and Twaddle embraced each other at third and Lester went out. Twaddle redeemed himself in the first half of the seventh by a two base hit, stealing third and home. Lounds made a three base hit and was brought in by a sacrifice hit by Reark. This tied the score again, 8-8.

Lounds pitched after the first half of the seventh inning. He struck out Walker as a starter and two men retired at first. In the eighth the Knowles men filled the bases. Taylor stole home and another three base hit by Lounds brought two men in. McNutt was declared out by the umpire for holding his bat behind his back and letting the ball hit it and then stepping over the plate for a run to first. The Standards failed to score, but one of their men had so much liquid confidence in the team that he paraded in front of the grandstand with a $10 greenback in his hand, offering to bet, until Marshal Gill stopped him. But the Co-operative boys were doomed to defeat. With two men out Hester made a noble effort to capture three bases on a fair ball. He was caught at third and it was all over. Score by innings: Knowles'. 0 2 3 1 0 0 2 3 0—11 Standard. 2 1 0 0 0 5 0 1 0—9 Hits—Knowles 11, Standard 7. Struck out—By Reark 6, by Lynch 10. Errors—Knowles 7, Standard 9. Time of game—Two hours and two minutes. All the players expressed satisfaction with Umpire Pickall's decisions. The game was for $25 a side and the Standards have challenged the Knowles team for a game for $50 a side. Manager McMillan says he will accept as soon as the money is put up. LATER—The Standard club this afternoon posted $10 forfeit with W. C. Davidson for a game for $50.

Paper on the Streets.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—As the fall approaches it is always noticeable that the paved streets are full of waste paper, some times to such an extent as to cause general remark. Now, if I mistake not, there is an ordinance against this thing, and anyone breaking it is punished by law. If this is true it is surely the duty of some one to see that the law is not broken, or those who break it are punished. If there is no ordinance dealing with the subject let me suggest that the people refrain of their own free will from throwing paper in the streets. It will improve the appearance of the city and give strangers a good opinion of the town. RESIDENT.

SENSATIONAL.

Is a Will Case Involving S. J. Faulk, of This City.

NEW LISBON, Sept. 13—Elizabeth Ranch, Mary Callier, Rebecca Weible, Anna Cochran, Samuel King and Daniel Faulk solicited the aid of this court today in determining whether the will admitted in the probate court last week in the estate of their aunt, Leah Faulk, of St. Clair township, is to hold good or be declared fraudulent, as they claim it is. Mrs. Faulk died last month at the home of her nephew, Samuel B. Faulk, where she had made her home for a number of years, and where, if allegations stated in the petition are true, she received anything but kind treatment. Her will leaves all her property, personal and real, to this nephew and S. J. Faulk, unconditionally, and makes them her executors. The statement made by the plaintiffs is that when this will was made, these executors compelled her to sign it, threatening her in case of refusal to turn her off the farm where she lived and by such intimidations and threats they induced her to do so in 1877. Several years after and a number of times she requested that this paper be destroyed, and from this time on, during the last eight years of her life, she was kept under strict control of Samuel Faulk and family, and being totally blind was under perfect subjection. In order to keep her from her friends she was in her last years kept in a room without attendance or fire, where last winter her hands were frozen through the neglect and cruelty of this family, and all to preserve this will intact. The plaintiffs are her heirs at law and want the court to determine as to whether this paper is to hold good or if not set it aside. J. B. McLaughlin and A. H. Clark are the attorneys.

Alexander H. McCoy, executor of the late Catharine McDonald's estate, sued Evan McIntosh today, as executor of James McDonald's estate, for the funeral expenses of Catharine, wife of James McDonald, for which he provided in his will. This case will be remembered from last term of court, when McLean Bros., undertakers, recovered judgment against the plaintiff for $147.80, the expenses incurred by them in conducting the funeral. In 1887 James McDonald died, leaving a will by which he provided for the funeral expenses of his wife, Catharine, who died in February, 1893, leaving a separate estate. Her husband's estate having provided for her funeral expenses, her executor refused to pay them, when the McLean brothers sued and recovered the amount against him. The plaintiff claims now that this is due him from the defendant, it being a legacy from this estate and wants it. Potts & Moore are the attorneys.

An action for partition of lot No. 2, in Moore's addition to Salem, was filed here today by Charles F. Button, heir of the late Frederick Button. Theodore T. Milladore and Branker S. Button, Minnie M. Wells and Letitia Morgan are made defendants, each being heirs in common with the plaintiff.

SIX PERSONS HURT

At a Funeral in Irondale This Morning by a Runaway.

IRONDALE, Sept. 14.—While at a funeral here this morning the team of a Salineville liveryman ran away, and frightened other horses, causing a stampede. Six persons were injured, and although it is not definitely known, it is thought that some persons are badly hurt.

More Democratic Economy.

There is another manifestation of the wisdom of Democracy in the increased price of sugar. Retail dealers here have been informed that the price has advanced an eighth of a cent on the pound, which means that the consumer will have to pay that much more every time he buys sugar for home. This is the second advance since the trust captured the country, and now the consumer only gets 18 pounds for a dollar where he formerly got 22. The advance is meeting with objection, but dealers declare that they pay so much for it that they can not afford to sell it cheaper.

BIDDING WAS LIVELY

For the Paving of Third Street and Starkey's Lane.

JOHN RYAN WAS THE LOWEST

And Will Get the Contract—W. H. Surles and Harrison Rinehart, William Chisholm, Thomas Abrahams and A. R. Gould Wanted the Job—Unusually Low Bid.

One of the most bothersome points connected with the paving of Third street and Starkey's lane, or more properly Sheridan avenue, was disposed of at 1 o'clock this afternoon when Clerk Hanley opened the bids for the contract.

John Ryan was the lowest and lucky bidder. His offer to grade and pave Third street was at the rate of $1.02 per square yard; for each lineal foot, new curbing, 32 cents; for redressing and resetting each lineal foot of old curbing, 94 cents. Sheridan avenue, 88 cents per square yard. Bondsman, Michael P. Ryan, John McNutt.

A. R. Gould, bid on curbing: All old curbing redressed and reset, 10 cents per foot, running measure, new stone, 35 cents per foot. Five inches facing, two feet deep.

R. T. Abrahams on Third street, $1.14; new curbing, 37 cents; old curbing, 19 cents.

William Chisholm on Third street, $1.16; new curbing, 40 cents; old curbing, 20 cents. Sheridan avenue $1; 40 cents; 20 cents.

W. H. Surles & Harrison Rinehart, Third street: $1.10; 32 cents; 13 cents. Sheridan avenue: $1; 32 cents; 13 cents.

Council will probably meet in special session Monday night to arrange for the work which is expected to start Oct. 1. They hope to borrow enough money in anticipation of the sale of bonds to finish the work this season.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY.

An Important Meeting Was Held Last Evening.

The members of the ladies auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association met in the association rooms last night and took decisive action respecting an entertainment to be given under the auspices of the auxiliary, for the purpose of lifting an indebtedness with now stands against the Young Men's Christian association. There was a full representation present, and business matters were rushed through in a highly satisfactory manner. It was resolved to hold an entertainment in the rink on three consecutive nights, 15th, 16th and 17th of November. The very best local talent will be secured, while artists from a distance will also take part in the program. Splendid music will be secured, and no stone will be left unturned in the effort to make this fair and musicale the leading event of the season. Choice ice cream, cakes and confections will be subject to your order.

One of the special attractions will be the drill of a corps of young ladies, representing the various churches of the city. The members of this organization will show the beauties of military drill, in its most attractive and pleasing form, and those present on the dates mentioned will be given a rich treat.

Do not fail to place the dates of this fair on the tablet of your memory. You will receive a warm welcome at the hands of the Christian women having the entertainment in charge, while you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are assisting a worthy project.

Afraid the Shops Will Go.

The Wellsville Union greatly fears that instead of having the offices, recently moved to Cleveland, returned to our neighbor, they will be compelled to suffer the loss of the shops. It says that some of the more prominent business men, who are in the confidence of Superintendent Loree, have known for some time that the Pennsylvania company does not like to pay a tax of three per cent on its property when there are so many places on the line where the rate is much less. The Union seems worried about a small matter, since the junction of the river division is the best possible location for the shops.

There May Be More.

Mr. Fritzsche, representing the company who put in the sprinkler system at Goodwins' and Knowles', is in the city on business connected with the finishing up of the work at Laughlin's and Harkers'. This is about completed and the force of men will be sent to Akron, where they have another big job on hand. There are at least two other potteries arranging for the system, and it is thought that arrangements will be completed in a few months. In that event the men who will go to Akron will be returned to this city.

NEW EMBLEMS.

The Rechabites Will Wear Button Badges in the Future.

The High tent, Rechabites, which closed its session in this city Wednesday evening, have adopted several styles of button badges to be worn by such members of the order as choose to purchase them.

For members of the men's order generally a button with a triangle and the letters "T. F. and J." in the center with a circle of blue enamel around the edge, was chosen. The letters are abbreviations for the words indicating the principles of the order, temperance and fortitude and justice. The lady Rechabites will wear a pin with two pillars in the center and the letters, "T. R." for temperance and benevolence. The style for the Junior Rechabites is a button, the same as that of the ladies branch, except that the abbreviation "Jun." is substituted in the center. The new badges will be of a very neat design.

Last night Seaside tent, lady Rechabites, entertained a large crowd in their rooms in Wellsville. Messrs. Coleman, Mick, Vaughn and Rabbitt made short addresses as did Mrs. Huffman, of Steubenville; Mrs. Rabbitt, of Akron and Mrs. Bickerstaff, chief ruler of Seaside tent. Grand Secretary Vaughn also sang a couple of songs to the delight of the audience. After the speeches, refreshments were served and the crowd indulged in social games. All spent a very pleasant evening. About 25 from this city were present. The remaining delegates returned home this morning.

Monday's Convention.

On Monday the Democrats of this district will meet in convention and nominate some member of the party to be knocked down by the Taylor forces in November. The favorite seems to be Banker Raff, of Canton, who has been stirring about among the Democrats of Mahoning and Stark counties for several weeks. It is said that he will go into the convention with enough votes pledged to give him the nomination, and after a complimentary ballot or two it will be given him.

A Novelty in Delegates.

East Liverpool is always showing some novelty to the world, and it is not at all unreasonable that trades council could exist for any length of time without showing something unusual. At the next meeting the body will contain three ladies, delegates from among the warehouse women. When the decorators organize they too will have three delegates. This is probably the only trades council in the county where women are admitted on the same footing as men.

No Settlement.

The pottery manufacturers of Trenton met their employees last Saturday evening, and the matter of another reduction was discussed without reaching any conclusion. The pottery owners argued that this was necessary because the tariff law did not give them the protection promised in the Washington agreement. A Trenton correspondent sees a gratifying feature in the good nature of the conference, and hopes that there will be no fight or closing of the works.

Not That Kind of a Man.

Charles Kent, who is well known in the city as a packer, has been unable to obtain work, and some one circulated a story to the effect that he had offered to take a job or two below the regular price. That made Kent angry, and he called at this office last night, and asked the News Review to deny the story in most emphatic terms. He branded it as a lie out of whole cloth, and will prosecute the individual who first gave it birth if he can be found.

Broke the Kneecap.

When walking in the yard at her home on Fourth street, Wednesday, Mrs. George Owen had the misfortune to step on a broken board and fall. At first it was thought that the injury amounted to nothing, but examination by a physician showed that the kneecap was broken. The lady is getting on as well as could be expected.

"The Colonel"

"The Colonel" failed to fill the Grand last evening, but the company put forward a creditable performance. The humor of the piece is amusing rather than laughable, and when used by Oscar P. Sisson makes a favorable impression. Josephine Florence Shepherd made an excellent "colonel," and Miss Marguerite Gonzalez sang very well.

TWO LITTLE GIRLS

Ate Some Poison Roots Last Night

AND CAME VERY NEAR TO DEATH

Before the Physician Saved Them—They Are Better Today and Will Likely Recover—They Did Not Know What They Were Eating.

There are two little girls in town who will never eat vines of any sort if they are so fortunate as to recover from a severe illness which now keeps them at home.

Last night the little daughter of William Laird, residing on Thompson hill, went for a walk with her cousin, who is visiting her from Pittsburg. In the course of the ramble they played on the ground and discovered some sort of roots which they ate. Childlike they said nothing about it when they got home, but they became very ill, and a physician was summoned. He at once pronounced the cases as caused by poison, and did all in his power to save the children. Both suffered awfully, and for a time it was feared that they would die. The most powerful antidotes had little effect upon them, and the cases were considered most dangerous. After a long battle the little ones began to get better, and it is thought that they will recover, although they are still very sick girls. This is the second case of this kind noted this year, the other being a small boy whose parents reside in the West End. The name of the root is not known as none has ever been seen to be recognized.

A Staunch Town.

"This is a staunch little city," said a New York salesman to a News Review man last night, "I don't believe that I was ever in a town where the people stick up for the place as they do here. Why I came near losing an order this morning because I told the merchant that any man who lived in a town where they had such hills as these should be compelled to climb them half a dozen times every day. He went on to explain that these hills are dear to Liverpool, and I agreed with him."

Recognized.

Mr. A. Armstrong has received a diploma of honorable mention from the lady managers of the World's Fair as a token of his skill in being the original designer and compiler of the "Manufacturers of the United States Reference book." The work received the highest award at the fair and got a medal at the Paris exposition five years ago. Mr. Armstrong appreciates the handsome diploma and will have it suitably framed for display at his office.

The Association Reception.

The reception of the Young Men's Christian association last evening was one of the most pleasant in the history of the organization, and every performance was enthusiastically encored. The music was among the best ever heard in the city, and the large audience thoroughly appreciated every part of the program. These entertainments greatly increase the popularity of the association.

That Irondale Trouble.

A correspondent writing from Irondale says the belief prevails there that the cut in wages will amount to 25 per cent, and trouble is expected as the men claim they will not accept. Representatives of the manufacturers and a committee of workmen are meeting in Pittsburg today and attempting to create a scale for the year. This is more evidence of the ruin wrought by the Democratic tariff.

A Pair of Iron Greys.

East Liverpool is the proud possessor of two new horses, and beauties they are. The team are large, but fleet, and have already been installed in their new quarters at the patrol station. They were purchased by the fire committee to take the place of the horse owned by Mr. Allison, and Barney, who is getting too old to meet the requirements of the department.

May Lose a Leg.

George Welch, a resident of the West End, is dangerously ill and fears are entertained that he will lose a leg. Some time ago he discovered that a boil appeared on his leg, and almost before he knew it the inflammation began to spread. It covered all the leg, and found a lodgement on his body. Every effort is being made to save his life, and it is thought that he will recover.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

READ THE NEWS REVIEW.

In a year they will be electing a governor in Ohio, and there is little reason to believe that he will be anything else but a good Republican.
There is any quantity of good timber in the party.

If there is any truth in the adage that ears will burn when their owners are being condemned it will not be long until the long, pointed ears of the Democratic donkey will be reduced to blackened ghosts of their former glory.

At the McKeesport, centennial yesterday Governor McKinley was accorded an ovation. His very appearance was the signal for enthusiastic cheering, and every word he uttered was attentively heard by thousands.
The iron workers know McKinley, and the Morning Herald but echoes their sentiment when it flies his presidential banner in the editorial column.

Ohio is a state of decided opinions.
When our people think, they think as hard as they can. They are intelligent and can think with any body of men in the universe. Now they thought in Maine, and the result was a tremendous majority for protection.
If Ohio thinks in the same proportion, the Republican victory this fall will be won with a majority of something like 140,000 votes to our credit.

EVERY Democratic editor with energy to clip and ability to write is remarking these days of the wonderful revival in business: forgetting that every mill placed at work means a reduction of wages. Yes, it is true, we are experiencing a revival in business, but why should there ever have been any necessity for the revival? Why is it that the mills have been closed and the factories silent? Democracy should think before it talks of prosperity under such circumstances.

THE OPENING.

Two weeks from yesterday the honored governor of Ohio, who never goes traveling without being accompanied by a goodly store of common sense, will open the campaign at Findlay.
Great preparations are being made for the event, and there are reasons for believing that it will be as much of an astonisher as was the gathering in Akron last year. One marked difference, however, will doubtless be the opinion of the people. Then they speculated when speaking of the Democratic party: now they can talk from actual experience. They know from observation that the Democrats in congress did all they could to destroy protection and the workman's wages, and not a few could testify in experiences of hardship produced by closed mills and factories. Democracy has not only given every Republican speaker a bounteous store of campaign material, but has been kind enough to place it in the hands of thousands of voters by taking away their employment, and reducing them to poverty. These things brought the Republican majority in Vermont, they won the victory in Maine, and they will roll up a great majority in Ohio.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 14.—The new Grand Army of the Republic officers have been elected and installed, and the encampment is already a glittering remembrance of the past.
Thousands of the veterans and visitors today are gliding out of the city homeward bound, while others are guests on excursions on the rivers or are visiting the great manufacturing plants of interest in and about Pittsburgh. Some are helping the neighboring city of Mc-Keesport celebrate.

The contest was a hot one between Colonel Thomas G. Lawler of Rockford, Ill., the new commander-in-chief, and Colonel J. N. Walker of Indiana. Colonel Walker was only defeated by a

COLONEL THOS. G. LAWLER, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, G. A. R.

majority of 11 votes, the vote being Lawler 339, Walker 319. The election was then made unanimous.

In a brief speech the new commander-in-chief thanked his supporters and said he would work to the utmost for the advancement of that grand organization the G. A. R.

Comrade Lawler was born in Liverpool, England, on April 7, 1844. He came to Illinois when a child, received his education in the public schools of Illinois. When at the age of 17 he enlisted as a private in Company E, Nineteenth Illinois Volunteer Infantry in June, 1861, serving three years and three months. He was with his company and regiment in every battle in which they were engaged, and with the colors of his regiment was the first man of his command over the Confederate works at the battle of Missionary Ridge, November 15, 1863. He served as private, sergeant and was elected first lieutenant, but not mustered out. Commanded his company for two months during the Atlanta campaign, was elected by the vote of his company and placed upon the roll of honor by order of Major General Rosecrans, commanding the Army of the Cumberland. Organized the Rockford rifles in 1876 and made it the most efficient and best known military organization in the West. He was elected colonel and commanded the Third regiment, Illinois national guard, for seven years, when he resigned in order to give younger officers a chance for promotion. Was postmaster at Rockford under the Hayes, Garfield and Harrison administrations, and is now engaged in the lumber and coal business.

Comrade Lawler was one of the first members of G. L. Nevins post, No. 1, department of Illinois, G. A. R., which has a membership of nearly 60, and is the third largest post in this department.
He has been its commander for 26 consecutive years. He served for five years as a member of the council department of administration, one year each as junior and senior vice department commander, and was elected by unanimous vote of the encampment to the position of department commander for the year of 1892, his post refusing to accept his reignation as its commander during the year of his service as department commander.

mander.

Joseph Horne & Co., of Pittsburgh.
He was born in Allegheny on Jan. 20, 1844. He graduated from the Third ward school, and in 1854 entered the store of William Semple of Allegheny.
He remained with him until 1858, when he went into the employ of Joseph Horne & Co. He remained in the store until the breaking out of the war. When the One Hundred and Twenty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, was organized, he enlisted as a private in Company E, in 1862, and remained in the service until the regiment was disbanded at Harrisburg in 1863. While in the service his regiment participated in the battles of the second Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville.
When mustered out he was second sergeant of his company.

As soon as he returned home he made preparations to enlist in another regiment that was being raised, and was elected a second lieutenant of one of the companies. As he was still under age and his mother refused to give her consent to his re-entering the service, he resigned his position and went again in the employ of Joseph Horne & Co. In 1865 he became a member of the firm, and has remained with the house ever since.

He has been a member of Post 162 past commanders, and past senior vice of the Republic and the Sons of Veterans that has been discussed for several years will probably not be consummated in the near future. A canvass among the leading Grand Army of the Republic veterans and the members of the Sons of Veterans show that both sides are opposed to the union of the two orders.

The following resolution was adopted and a copy ordered to be sent to the president of the United States: "Resolved, That the Grand Army of the Republic, in twenty-eighth national encampment assembled, respectfully request the president of the United States to issue executive orders to the heads of the several departments of the government, and through them to subordinate having power of employment and the retention of persons in the public service, that due consideration be given to the claims of the veterans of the war, and that in letter and spirit any laws in reference thereto which give them a preference may be faithfully carried out."

Old City hall never contained a larger, more patriotic or more interesting crowd than that which filled every inch of its space last night. It was the occasion of the reception tendered to the visiting delegates to the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic conventions by the ladies citizens' committee. Fully 3,000 people were present. One of the honored guests was Mrs. Alice Goodwin of Chicago, a full cousin of Abraham Lincoln.

The ladies of the G. A. R. have elected Mrs. Nettie E. Gunlock of Chicago president. Other officers of the association elected are: Senior vice president, Mrs. Etta Tobey of Indiana; junior vice president, Mrs. Anna M. Hall of West

Debs Not Fighting Sargent.
HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—A resolution was adopted by the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen indorsing the labor measures now being considered by the constitutional convention at Albany and urging the labor leaders to unite with those having the measure in charge to secure their speedy passage. The convention then adjourning to give committees chance to dispose of business referred to them.
President Debs of the A. R. U. has been visited by many delegates, who ten-age the reelection of Grand Master ain one week ago has been found to be

MRS. EMMA R. M. WALLACE, NATIONAL PRESIDENT, W. R. C.

G. A. R. A committee was appointed to wait upon the organization and present the compliments of the encampment.

A handsome clock and two beautiful vases were presented by the encampment to Past Commander Weissert of Wisconsin. Comrade Hopkins of Detroit made the presentation speech.

The committee on pension made a report which was unanimously adopted.
The committee expressed the opinion that there was still just cause for complaint on the rules of the pension department, which are unfavorable to the applicant and result in unjust discrimination and that doubts were decided unfavorable to the claimant when they might have been decided in his favor under a more liberal construction.

The committee urges that order No.
229, from the department of the interior, bureau of pension, is especially obnoxious as establishing needless requirements in the preparation of testimony, and should be notified to provide that all evidence shall be examined. The report charges that, although 17 years elapsed between the Mexican war and the war for the Union, yet the amount paid on Mexican pensions was increasing, while the amount paid to Union soldiers was diminishing.

The report concludes: "We feel compelled to say that there is evidently on the part of both the administrative and legislative departments a feeling of hostility to our worthy and suffering comrades, the wards of the nation, who bore the burden and heat of battle—a feeling which certainly should not exist in a country saved by their devotion."

"While the Grand Army of the Republic is pledged to purity in public affairs, and will, therefore, sympathize and co-operate with any and all proper efforts at economy, to the end that all public burdens may be reduced to the minimum, we view with extreme regret that false economy which shaves and parses to the quick at the expense of honor, justice and patriotism."

"We insist upon an honest patriotic construction and administration of existing pension laws and that every just claim shall be speedily settled, so that whatever is found due shall be paid while the applicant is alive to receive it." "We are confident that the loyal sentiment of the country will condemn a policy that attempts to recuperate the public treasury at the expense largely of the slender purse of our disabled heroes' widows and orphans."

The National Alliance of the Daughters of Veterans has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Ellen M.
Walker of Worcester, Mass.; senior vice president, Miss Anna Schraed of St.
Louis, Mo.; junior vice president, Miss Gladys Foster of Kansas; chaplain, Miss Levo Stevens of Massillon, O.; treasurer, Mrs. Ida J. Allen of Newton-ville, Mass.; inspector, Miss Addie York of Somerville, Mass., and installing officer, Miss Anna Roberts of Connellsville, Ind. The trustees are: Anna Moore of New York, Minnie Trescott of Ohio, Nellie King of Ohio, Cora Pike of Massachusetts, and E. Evelyn Monroe of Massachusetts.

Kimball of Massachusetts, was appointed secretary for the ensuing year, and Celia Perry, Pennsylvania, was appointed guard. The other members of the staff—the inner guard, musician and financial secretary—will be chosen by the president later.

A wonderful display of fireworks was given last night for the entertainment of Grand Army encampment delegates, veterans and visitors. The famous Pain company prepared the display, which was given from flats on the Monongahela river opposite the foot of Wood street. There was an immense outpouring of people to witness the last public spectacle in connection with the encampment. Battery B assisted and helped some of the effects with salvos of artillery. There were 47 items on the programme.

The Woman's Relief Corps elected the following officers: President, Mrs.
Emma R. A. Wallace, Chicago; senior vice president, Miss Helen R. Morrison, Smithport, Pa.; junior vice president, Mrs. Lizzie R. Herick, Seattle, Wash.; treasurer, Mrs. Armilla A. Cheney; chaplain, Mrs. S. Agnes Parker, Massachusetts. The installation took place today.

The National encampment voted to send an official communication to ex-Governor A. G. Curtin, now confined to his house by illness, declaring sympathy for him and expressing hope of his early restoration to health. His name was greeted with applause.

The Twenty-fourth New York infantry met at the pension office in the federal building, Norm G. Cooper of Sturgis, Mich., acted as president and secretary. The roll call showed that he was the only one present of the old Oswego county veterans who made up the famous Twenty-fourth infantry. He unanimously re-elected himself.

Commander Lawler has appointed Comrade C. C. Jones of Rockford, Ill., adjutant general and Comrade J. N.
Burst of Sycamore, Ill., quartermaster general. Headquarters are established at Rockford, Ill.

McKEESPORT CELEBRATING.

The Second Day of the Anniversary as Lively as the First.

McKESPORT, Pa., Sept. 14.—The second day of the celebration of Mc-Keesport's hundredth anniversary is fully as lively as that of yesterday.
Today's programme includes the industrial and school parades, speeches by prominent citizens and a balloon ascension at Versailles park. A grand centennial concert by a special choir will be given in the evening at White's opera house.

At least 20,000 guests are present.
Yesterday Governors Pattison and Mc-Kinley and Mayors McKenna of Pittsburgh and Kennedy of Allegheny City, were given the freedom of the city with a very pretty ceremony. Generals Hastings and Alger were also present.
The guests were taken through the Demmler tin-plate works.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the booming of cannon gave the signal for the parade to move. About 5,000 people were in line. Then followed a barbecue. Addresses were delivered by local and visiting notables, and a general round of merry-making was indulged in. A balloon ascension and other features helped to entertain the assembly.

The evening programme included a fine pyrotechnic display and the centennial ball. The centennial ball was a brilliant affair.

Maltreated by Three Negroes.

AKRON, O., Sept. 14.—Three negroes, two men and a woman, called at the house of saloonist George Woehlhueter in the very heart of the city and demanded breakfast. Mrs. Woehlhueter was alone. Badly frightened she prepared the meal. Later the men returned to the house, broke in the street door and going to Mrs. Woehlhueter's room beat her insensible and assaulted her. She was bound and gagged and thrown into the cellar. Carpets and bed clothing were saturated with oil and the house fired. Except for timely discovery of the flames all trace of the crime would have been obliterated.
Mrs. Woehlhueter's condition is critical.

BRADY IS MAD.

Denies He Knew the Sioux City People Couldn't Arrange the Fight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—William A.
Brady, Corbett's manager, is much wrought up by the insinuations which have been made that he was well aware that the Sioux City Athletic club could not close arrangements for the big fight.
"Jackson will not fight Corbett," said he, "and that's all there is to it. We will agree to anything but a fight in England, and knowing this they will insist upon the very thing which we will not agree to."

"Fitzsimmons? Oh, Steve O'Donnell will give him a fight, and I'll bet $10, 000 to $8,000 he will win. There's a chance for Bob. If he can whip Steve Corbett will listen to him and meet him 80 days after the battle."

THEIR CASE.

A. R. U. Leaders' Attorneys Present No Evidence.

THEY THINK DEBS IS SAFE.

He Can't Be Convicted on the Evidence Presented by the Government, so They Claim. The Prosecution Sure of His Conviction.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Much to the surprise of every one, the attorneys for the defense in the A. R. U. contempt case announced, when the last witness for the prosecution had been heard, that they would stake their case on the evidence before the court. Mr. Gregory said that the defense had some witnesses who could modify the testimony, but that the cardinal points would probably not be affected. He said that he and his associates would therefore refrain from putting witnesses in rebuttal on the stand and would be ready after a reasonable time for the preparation of abstracts of evidence to go before the court with their arguments.

This was apparently a great surprise to Mr. Walker and his associates, who represent the prosecution. However, after some preliminary stipulations as to the preparation of papers, Judge Woods adjourned court to Tuesday, Sept. 25, when the arguments will be heard. Twenty days after that the defense will present its briefs and the whole matter will go to the court. Counsel for the defense express themselves as confident that the government has not made its case on the testimony presented and are confident of being able in the end to free Mr. Debs and the other officers and directors of the American Railway union from the contempt charge. On the other hand, counsel for the prosecution are quite confident of success. The judge has never through the trial given the least intimation as to what he thought of any point in the proceedings. He said in court that he rather wanted to hear some collateral proceedings of a similar character before he finally decided the case. It is thought the case may run well into November before it is finally ended.

Among its prominent members was the late General John A. Logan.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Helping Irondale.

The people of Irondale who are interested in the extension of church work, are conducting a protracted meeting in the hope of eventually founding a branch of the Christian church there. Among those who have been foremost in the movement is Reverend Huffer, of this city.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Slept Behind Bars.

The only occupants of the cooler last night were a pair of young fellows from Sewickley, who were given a place to sleep. They claimed to be looking for work.

A. M. Bailey, a well-known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cents a bottle for sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

RUB THE OTHER EYE.

Good Advice of an Engineer Regarding the Removal of Cinders.

Nine persons out of every ten with a cinder or any foreign substance in the eye will instantly begin to rub the eye with one hand while hunting for the handkerchief with the other. They may and sometimes do remove the offending cinder, but more frequently they rub until the eye becomes inflamed, bind a handkerchief around the head and go to bed. This is all wrong. The better way is not to rub the eye with the cinder in it at all, but rub the other eye as vigorously as you like, according to writer in The Medical Summary, who relates the following experience:

"A few years since I was riding on the engine of a fast express. The engineer threw open the front window, and I caught a cinder that gave me the most excruciating pain. I began to rub the eye with both hands. 'Let your eye alone and rub the other eye' (this from the engineer). I thought he was chaffing me and worked the harder. 'I know you doctors think you know it all, but if you will let that eye alone and rub the other one the cinder will be out in two minutes,' persisted the engineer.

"I began to rub the other eye. Soon I felt the cinder down near the inner canthus and made ready to take it out. 'Let it alone and keep at the well eye,' shouted the doctor pro tem. I did so for a minute longer, and looking in a small glass he gave me found the offender on my cheek. Since then I have tried it many times and have advised many others and have never known it to fail in one instance unless it was as sharp as a piece of steel or something that cut into the ball and required an operation to remove it."

A Queer Marriage Ceremony.

A queer marriage ceremony was that in Queen Elizabeth's reign, before the deaf and dumb alphabet was invented, between Thomas Filshy and Ursula Bridget. Ursula could talk fast enough, but Thomas was a deaf mute, and as it was required that promises should be exchanged in spoken words nobody knew how to manage the thing. Finally the bishop of London helped to devise a service by signs, and Thomas proceeded thus.

Having first taken Ursula in his arms, he took her by the hand and put the nuptial ring on her finger. He then laid his right hand significantly on his heart, and afterward, putting their palms together, extended both his hands toward heaven. Having thus sued for divine blessing, he declared his purpose to live with Ursula till death should separate them by closing his eyelids with his fingers, digging the earth with his feet as though he wished to make a hole in the ground and then moving his arms and body as though he were tolling a funeral bell.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Honey From Lump Sugar.

To make it take a quantity of lump sugar, remembering that your vessel (a preserving kettle is best) must be large, as the sirup boils up at one stage of the process and is apt to run over and catch fire. Pour on the sugar a little water, enough to melt to a sirup when hot. Boil and skim till clear, when drop in for two quarts as much powdered alum as you can pile on a dime. The alum is to prevent the sugar from granulating. Be ready to lift the kettle off the fire quickly, as the alum causes the sirup to froth up very high. Boil until it becomes of the consistency and the color of strained honey, when add a teaspoonful of Jamaica ginger, stir thoroughly and set to cool.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
